Event Evening Lawn Chair Program: "Bleed, Blister and Purge - Medicine on the Lewis & Clark Trail"

Description: Every summer, the Lewis and Clark Interpretive Center offers a series of special presentations on Friday evenings. Join Jeff LaRock out along the banks of the Missouri for an informal 45-minute program. The Lewis and Clark expedition lost only one man during the two-and-a-half year journey through the wilderness, even though there was no doctor with the party. Learn more about the calamitous "cures" offered during the early 19th century. Bring your own lawn chair or blanket.

We will move indoors in the event of inclement weather.
